

EDF Energy Electricity Distribution Network in the UK

Fact Sheet

- Energy Distributed: around 89 TWh each year
- Number of Customers: around 7.8 million
- Network Length:
  - Underground network - 134,767 km
  - Overhead network - 47,391 km
- Service Area: 29,165 sq. km.
- Network Coverage:

EDF owns and operates three regional networks in

  - London;
  - East of England, incorporating all of the counties of Norfolk, Suffolk and Hertfordshire, most of Cambridgeshire, Essex and Bedfordshire, parts of Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire, and the northern suburbs of Greater London; and
  - Southeast England, incorporating all of Kent, East Sussex, West Sussex and much of Surrey.

- Services Extended to the Following Renowned UK Businesses and

- Operations:

- Four London airports, namely Heathrow, Gatwick, Stansted and London City Airport
    - The London Underground, the city's rapid transit system
    - The Channel Tunnel Rail Link
    - The London Stock Exchange in the City of London
    - Sports facilities, including the All England Lawn Tennis & Croquet Club, where the Wimbledon Championships are held; Wembley Stadium, the home venue of the English National Football Team; and English Premier League football stadiums, including Emirates Stadium (Arsenal), Stamford Bridge (Chelsea), White Hart Lane (Tottenham Hotspur), The Boleyn Ground (West Ham United)
    - Tourist attractions, such as the London Eye, Tower Bridge and Buckingham Palace
    - Education institutions, including University of Cambridge, University College London and the London School of Economics and Political Science